

I strongly support the greatest diversity in media outlet owners. I am opposed to any further consolidation of ownership in any one media market. This will not serve the interests of the US public; instead, it will only benefit large media conglomerates which then limit the content of news and information available to the publ